- (6) The notice is deemed given if it has been left at the address given by P under section 22(3).
- (7) But if the notice has not been given because no address was given by P under section 22(3), the court may hear the application for the DVPO if the court is satisfied that the constable applying for the DVPO has made reasonable efforts to give P the notice. 35
- (8) The magistrates' court may adjourn the hearing of the application.
- (9) If the court adjourns the hearing, the DVPN continues in effect until the application has been determined.
- (10) On the hearing of an application for a DVPO, section 97 of the Magistrates' Courts Act 1980 (summons to witness and warrant for his arrest) does not 40 apply in relation to a person for whose protection the DVPO would be made, except where the person has given oral or written evidence at the hearing.

25 Conditions for and contents of a domestic violence protection order

- (1) The court may make a DVPO if two conditions are met.
- (2) The first condition is that the court is satisfied on the balance of probabilities that P has been violent towards, or has threatened violence towards, an associated person. 5
- (3) The second condition is that the court thinks that making the DVPO is necessary to protect that person from violence or a threat of violence by P.
- (4) Before making a DVPO, the court must, in particular, consider any opinion of which the court is made aware— 10
 - (a) of the person for whose protection the DVPO would be made, and
 - (b) in the case of provision included by virtue of subsection (8), of any other associated person who lives in the premises to which the provision would relate. 15
- (5) But the court may make a DVPO in circumstances where the person for whose protection it is made does not consent to the making of the DVPO.
- (6) A DVPO must contain provision to prohibit P from molesting the person for whose protection it is made.
- (7) Provision required to be included by virtue of subsection (6) may be expressed so as to refer to molestation in general, to particular acts of molestation, or to both. 20
- (8) If P lives in premises which are also lived in by a person for whose protection the DVPO is made, the DVPO may also contain provision— 25
 - (a) to prohibit P from evicting or excluding from the premises the person for whose protection the DVPO is made,
 - (b) to prohibit P from entering the premises,
 - (c) to require P to leave the premises, or
 - (d) to prohibit P from coming within such distance of the premises as may be specified in the DVPO. 30
- (9) A DVPO must state that a constable may arrest P without warrant if the constable has reasonable grounds for believing that P is in breach of the DVPO.
- (10) A DVPO may be in force for— 35
 - (a) no fewer than 14 days beginning with the day on which it is made, and
 - (b) no more than 28 days beginning with that day.
- (11) A DVPO must state the period for which it is to be in force.

26 Breach of a domestic violence protection order

- (1) A person arrested by virtue of section 25(9) for a breach of a DVPO must be held in custody and brought before a magistrates' court within the period of 24 hours beginning with the time of the arrest. 40
- (2) If the matter is not disposed of when the person is brought before the court, the court may remand the person.

- (3) In calculating when the period of 24 hours mentioned in subsection (1) ends, Christmas Day, Good Friday, any Sunday and any day which is a bank holiday in England and Wales under the Banking and Financial Dealings Act 1971 are to be disregarded.

27 Further provision about remand 5

- (1) This section applies for the purposes of the remand of a person by a magistrates' court under section 23(2) or (3) or 26(2).
- (2) In the application of section 128(6) of the Magistrates' Courts Act 1980 for those purposes, the reference to the "other party" is to be read –
- (a) in the case of a remand prior to the hearing of an application for a DVPO, as a reference to the authorising officer, 10
 - (b) in any other case, as a reference to the constable who applied for the DVPO.
- (3) If the court has reason to suspect that a medical report will be required, the power to remand a person may be exercised for the purpose of enabling a medical examination to take place and a report to be made. 15
- (4) If the person is remanded in custody for that purpose, the adjournment may not be for more than 3 weeks at a time.
- (5) If the person is remanded on bail for that purpose, the adjournment may not be for more than 4 weeks at a time. 20
- (6) If the court has reason to suspect that the person is suffering from a mental disorder within the meaning of the Mental Health Act 1983, the court has the same power to make an order under section 35 of that Act (remand to hospital for medical report) as it has under that section in the case of an accused person (within the meaning of that section). 25
- (7) The court may, when remanding the person on bail, require the person to comply, before release on bail or later, with such requirements as appear to the court to be necessary to secure that the person does not interfere with witnesses or otherwise obstruct the course of justice.

29 Ministry of Defence Police 40

- (2) If a DVPN is issued by a member of the Ministry of Defence Police by virtue of subsection (1), provision may be included in the DVPN by virtue of section 21(8) in relation to any other premises in England or Wales lived in by P and the associated person. 5

- (2) Such an order may make different provision for different areas.
- (3) More than one order may be made under this section.
