Subject:	Draft Regulation of the European Parliament and the of the Council amending Regulation (EC) No 562/2006 as regards the reinforcement of checks against relevant databases at external borders

This proposal, which is part of the Borders legislative package, was submitted by the Commission on 15 December 2015. Its main objective is to contribute in the prevention of threats against internal security and public policy. Bearing in mind the mandates given by the JHA Council in November 2015 and by the European Council in December 2015, an agreement on this proposal is a matter of absolute priority.

The Working Party on Frontiers examined the proposal thoroughly at its meetings of 8, 19 and 29 January 2016 where a substantial progress was achieved towards reaching common ground among delegations regarding their concerns. Building on these positive results, the Presidency submitted to the JHA Counsellors meeting of 4 February 2016 the further compromise suggestions set out in doc. 5753/16, which accommodated most of the remaining issues.

In the light of the above, the Presidency has prepared the attached further revised compromise text, which in its view could constitute the basis for an overall agreement on the proposal. It is noted that the changes vis-à-vis the Commission proposal are demonstrated in underline.

The Presidency believes that the only essential outstanding issue is whether the air borders should be included (along with the land and sea borders) in the scope of possible cases of targeted checks of persons enjoying the right of free movement under Union law. Such a derogation could be allowed in order to address a disproportionate impact on the traffic flow emanating from the systematic consultation of data bases for these persons. The Presidency is of the opinion that this issue should also be resolved in the prism of the need to find the right equilibrium between security priorities and the economic impact of the new measures on border controls that this draft Regulation is expected to bring about.

The Committee is invited to examine the Presidency compromise in the Annex to this Note, with a view to reaching a general approach on the draft Regulation.

DRAFT REGULATION OF THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND OF THE COUNCIL
amending Regulation No 562/2006 (EC) as regards the reinforcement of checks against relevant databases at external borders

THE EUROPEAN PARLIAMENT AND THE COUNCIL OF THE EUROPEAN UNION,

Having regard to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, and in particular Article 77(2)(b) thereof,

Having regard to the proposal from the European Commission,

After transmission of the draft legislative act to the national parliaments,

Acting in accordance with the ordinary legislative procedure,

Whereas:

- (1) Control at external borders remains one of the main safeguards of the area without controls at internal borders. It is carried out in the interest of all Member States. One of the purposes of such controls is to prevent any threat to the Member States' internal security and public policy, irrespectively of the origin of such threat.
- (2) The phenomenon of foreign terrorist fighters, many of whom are Union citizens, demonstrates the necessity to strengthen the checks at external borders with regard to Union citizens.
- (3) The documents of persons enjoying the right of free movement under Union law should therefore be checked systematically against relevant databases related to stolen, misappropriated, lost and invalidated travel documents in order to avoid that persons hide their real identity.
- (3a) Member States are obliged to check systematically third country nationals against all databases on entry. It should be ensured that such checks are also carried out systematically on exit.

- (4) Border guards should for the same reason also systematically check persons enjoying the right of free movement under Union law against relevant national and European databases in order to ensure that they do not represent a threat to internal security or public policy.
- (5) Technological developments allow in principle to consult relevant databases without delaying the process of crossing the border, as the controls on documents and persons can be carried out in parallel. Automatic border control gates may be relevant in that context. The use of passenger information received in accordance with Council Directive 2004/82/EC, or in accordance with other Union or national legislation, may also contribute to speeding up the process of required controls during the border crossing process. It is therefore possible without disproportionate negative effect on persons travelling in good faith to strengthen checks at external borders to better identify those persons who intend to hide their real identity or who are subject to relevant alerts for security reasons or for arrest. Systematic checks should be carried out at all external borders.
- (5a) However, if systematic checks at land and sea borders were to have a disproportionate impact on the flow of traffic at the border, Member States should be allowed not to carry out systematic checks against databases but only if based on a risk analysis assessing that such a relaxation would not lead to a security risk. Such risk assessment should be transmitted to the Agency for the Management of Operational Cooperation at the External Borders of the Member States of the European Union established by Council Regulation (EC) No 2007/2004¹ and be the subject of regular reporting both to the Commission and to the Agency
- (6) With Council Regulation (EC) No 2252/2004², the Union introduced the facial image and fingerprints as security elements in the passport of Union citizens. These security features have been introduced in order to render the passports more secure and establish a reliable link between the holder and the passport. Member States should therefore verify at least one of these biometric identifiers, in case of doubts on the authenticity of the travel document or on the identity of its holder. The same approach should apply to the checks on the third-country nationals, where this is possible.
- (7) This Regulation is without prejudice to the application of Directive 2004/38/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council³.

³ Directive 2004/38/EC of the European Parliament and of the Council of 29 April 2004 on the right of citizens of the Union and their family members to move and reside freely within the territory of the Member States (OJ L 158, 30.4.2004, p. 77).

- (8) (moved up in the Preamble and became Recital 3a).
- (9) Since the objective of this Regulation, namely reinforcing the checks against databases at external borders in reply in particular to the increase of the terrorist threat concerns one of the safeguards of the area without internal border control and as such concerns the proper functioning of the Schengen area, it cannot be sufficiently achieved by the Member States individually, but can rather be better achieved at Union level, the Union may adopt measures, in accordance with the principle of subsidiarity as set out in Article 5 of the Treaty on European Union. In accordance with the principle of proportionality, as set out in that Article, this Regulation does not go beyond what is necessary in order to achieve those objectives.
- (10) In accordance with Articles 1 and 2 of the Protocol No 22 on the position of Denmark, as annexed to the Treaty on European Union and to the Treaty on the Functioning of the European Union, Denmark is not taking part in the adoption of this Regulation and is not bound by it or subject to its application. Given that this Regulation builds upon the Schengen acquis, Denmark shall, in accordance with Article 4 of that Protocol, decide within a period of six months after the Council has decided on this Regulation whether it will implement it in its national law.
- (11) This Regulation constitutes a development of the provisions of the Schengen acquis, in which the United Kingdom does not take part, in accordance with Council Decision 2000/365/EC¹; the United Kingdom is therefore not taking part in the adoption of this Regulation and is not bound by it or subject to its application.
- (12) This Regulation constitutes a development of the provisions of the Schengen acquis, in which Ireland does not take part, in accordance with Council Decision 2002/192/EC²; Ireland is therefore not taking part in the adoption of this Regulation and is not bound by it or subject to its application.

- (16) As far as the use of Schengen Information System is concerned this Regulation constitutes an act building upon, or otherwise relating to, the Schengen acquis within, respectively, the meaning of Article 3(2) of the 2003 Act of Accession and Article 4(2) of the 2011 Act of Accession. The results of queries in the Schengen Information System should be without prejudice to Article 4 of Council Decision 2010/365/EU.
- (17) This Regulation respects fundamental rights and observes the principles recognised in particular by the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union.
- (18) Regulation (EC) No 562/2006 of the European Parliament and of the Council¹ should therefore be amended accordingly,

Article 1

Regulation (EC) No 562/2006 is amended as follows:

Article 7 is amended as follows:

(a) Paragraph 2 is replaced by the following:

"(2) On entry and on exit, persons enjoying the right of free movement under Union law shall be subject to the following checks:

(a) verification of the identity and the nationality of the person and the validity and authenticity of the travel document, including by consulting the relevant databases, in particular:

- (1) the Schengen Information System;
- (2) the Interpol database on stolen and lost travel documents;
- (3) national databases containing information on stolen, misappropriated, lost and invalidated travel documents

For passports and travel documents containing a storage medium as referred to in Article 1(2) of Council Regulation 2252/2004, the authenticity of the storage medium shall be checked.

(b) verification that a person enjoying the right of free movement under Union law is not considered to be a threat to the internal security, public policy, international relations of any of the Member States or to public health, including by consulting the relevant Union, and national databases, in particular the Schengen Information System.

Where there is doubt on the authenticity of the travel document or on the identity of its holder, the checks shall include the verification of at least one of the biometric identifiers integrated in the passports and travel documents issued in accordance with Council Regulation (EC) No 2252/2004*. Where possible, such verification shall also be carried out regarding travel documents not covered by that Regulation.

Where, at external land and sea borders, the consultation of the data bases referred to in points a) and b) of the first subparagraph would have a disproportionate impact on the flow of traffic, Member States may decide to carry out those checks on a targeted basis at specified border crossing-points based on an assessment of the risks related to internal security, public policy, international relations of any of the Member States or a threat to public health.

The scope and duration of the temporary reduction to targeted checks shall be defined in accordance with a risk assessment, which shall be updated regularly.

The risk assessment established by the Member State concerned shall explain the reasons for the temporary reduction to targeted checks and shall take into account, inter alia, the disproportionate impact on the flow of traffic and assess the possible risks and shall provide for statistics on passengers and incidents related to cross border crime.

Each Member State shall transmit its risk assessment to the Agency for the Management of Operational Cooperation at the External Borders of the Member States of the European Union established by Regulation (EC) No 2007/2004 and report every six months to the Commission and to that Agency on the application of the checks carried out on a targeted basis. Member States shall notify without delay other Member States and the Commission about their decision to temporarily carry out targeted checks.

(2a) The consultation of the databases referred to in paragraph (2)(a), and the consultation of the relevant Union and national databases referred to in paragraphs (2)(b) may be carried out in advance based on passenger information received in accordance with Council Directive 2004/82(EC) or in accordance with other Union or national legislation.

In case this consultation is carried out in advance based on such passenger information, a verification shall take place at the border crossing point. This process shall consist of a verification of the received advanced data against the data in the travel document and the verification of the identity and the nationality of the person concerned, as well as the validity and the authenticity of the travel document."

* Council Regulation (EC) No 2252/2004 of 13 December 2004 on standards for security features and biometrics in passports and travel documents issued by Member States (OJ L 385, 29.12.2004, p.1)."

(aa) Paragraph (3)(a)(i) and (ii) are replaced by the following:

"(i) Verification of the identity and the nationality of the third country national and the validity and authenticity of the travel document, including by consulting the relevant databases, in particular:

(1) the Schengen Information System;

(2) the Interpol database on stolen and lost travel documents;

(3) national databases containing information on stolen, misappropriated, lost and invalidated travel documents

For passport and travel documents containing a storage medium, the authenticity of the chip data shall be checked, subject to the availability of valid certificates.

(ii) verification that the travel document is accompanied, where applicable, by the requisite visa or residence permit."

(b) Paragraph 3(b)(iii) is replaced by the following:

"(iii) verification that the third-country national concerned is not considered to be a threat to public policy, internal security or international relations of any of the Member States, including by consulting the relevant Union and national databases, in particular the Schengen Information System;".

(c) Paragraph (3)(c)(iii) is deleted.

(d) In paragraph 3, the following points are added:

"(x)The consultation of the databases referred to in paragraph (3)(i), and the consultation of the relevant Union and national databases referred to in paragraphs (3)(a)(vi) may be carried out in advance based on passenger information received in accordance with Council Directive 2004/82(EC) or with other Union or national legislation.

In case this consultation is carried out in advance based on such passenger information, a verification shall take place at the border crossing point. This process shall consist of a verification of the received advanced data against the data in the travel document and the verification of the identity and the nationality of the person concerned, as well as the validity and the authenticity of the travel document. "

(y) Where there is doubt on the authenticity of the travel document or on the identity of the third country national, the checks, where possible, shall include the verification of at least one of the biometric identifiers integrated in the travel documents."

Article 2

Entry into force and applicability
