

consider the benefits that will be in the future. Co-ops and businesses that are in the same industry and have the same interests in an economic situation of the future. The idea is to