(9) This Regulation should lay down specific criteria and conditions for the procedure authorising Member States to amend existing agreements with third countries or to negotiate and conclude new agreements in exceptional circumstances, in particular where the Community itself indicated its intention to exercise its external competences to conclude the agreement. This procedure is without prejudice to the exclusive competence of the Community and the provisions of Articles 300 and 307 of the EC Treaty. EXPLANATORY STATEMENT

Context

This Regulation establishes a procedure for the negotiation and conclusion of bilateral agreements between Member States and third countries concerning jurisdiction, recognition and enforcement of judgments and decisions in matrimonial matters, parental responsibility and maintenance obligations. According to Article 307 of the Treaty, Member States are required to eliminate any incompatibility between the Community acquis and the international agreement concluded by that Member State and the third country.

The European Court of Justice confirmed in its Opinion 1/03 of 7 February 2006 (Lugano) that the Community has acquired exclusive external competences to negotiate and conclude international agreements with third countries on a number of important matters as referred to in Title IV of the Treaty.

Therefore, it is the Community which, on the basis of Article 300 of the Treaty, is competent to conclude such agreements between the Community and a third country. It should therefore be assessed whether there exists sufficient interest in replacing all existing or proposed bilateral agreements between Member States and third countries with Community agreements. That is the reason why this procedure is established. If there is no community interest, Member States should be authorised to conclude the agreements.

Analysis by the rapporteur

The rapporteur would like to underline, however, that, as this procedure departs from the rule that it is the Community which concludes an agreement, the procedure to authorise Member States should be subject to very precise conditions. The mechanism should be limited in scope and time. It cannot be applied when the Community has a sufficient interest in concluding a specific agreement with a third country and should not undermine the proper functioning of the system established by the Community rules. The rapporteur esteems it crucial that for the sake of coherence, the Commission should establish a strategy and define priorities with a view to developing a Community policy on external relations in the area of judicial cooperation in civil and commercial law. On the proposed comitology procedure, the rapporteur thinks it is not appropriate and he therefore proposes to delete those references. It is the Commission's competence as gardienne du traité to ensure that Community law is respected. This competence is conferred upon it by the Treaty and does therefore not concern a case of implementing powers (as foreseen in article 202 of the Treaty). Instead, the rapporteur proposes a system of notification (AM 26), as is also stipulated in Regulation 1931/2006 of 20 December 2006 laying down rules on local border traffic at the external land borders of the Member States and amending the provisions of the Schengen Convention. The Regulation should be limited in time and applicable until 2014 (apart from the agreements which are currently negotiated and for which the Commission has given the authorisation to start negotiations).
OPINION OF THE COMMITTEE ON LEGAL AFFAIRS

for the Committee on Civil Liberties, Justice and Home Affairs on the proposal for a Council regulation on establishing a procedure for the negotiation and conclusion of bilateral agreements between Member States and third countries concerning sectoral matters and covering jurisdiction, recognition and enforcement of judgments and decisions in matrimonial matters, parental responsibility and maintenance obligations, and applicable law in matters relating to maintenance obligations

Rapporteur: Tadeusz Zwiefka

SHORT JUSTIFICATION

The rapporteur’s reasons for proposing the amendments set out below correspond largely with those set out in his draft report on the proposal for a regulation establishing a procedure for the negotiation and conclusion of bilateral agreements between Member States and third countries concerning sectoral matters and covering applicable law in contractual and non-contractual obligations 1. It must be borne in mind, however, that there is no question of the Community's having exclusive competence in the area covered by this proposal for a regulation.

In addition, this proposal falls to be dealt with under the consultation procedure. Given that it needs to be closely aligned with the other proposed regulation on bilateral agreements covering applicable law in contractual and non-contractual obligations, to which the codecision procedure applies, your rapporteur intends to work extremely closely with the rapporteur for the Committee on Civil Liberties, Justice and Home Affairs, which has the main responsibility for this file.

AMENDMENTS

The Committee on Legal Affairs calls on the Committee on Civil Liberties, Justice and Home Affairs, as the committee responsible, to incorporate the following amendments in its report:

Amendment 1

Proposal for a regulation
Title

Text proposed by the Commission

Proposal for a Council Regulation of […] establishing a procedure for the negotiation and conclusion of bilateral agreements between Member States and third countries concerning sectoral matters and covering jurisdiction, recognition and enforcement of judgments and decisions in matrimonial matters, parental responsibility and maintenance obligations, and applicable law in matters relating to maintenance obligations

Amendment

Proposal for a Council Regulation establishing a procedure for the negotiation and conclusion of agreements between Member States and third countries concerning jurisdiction, recognition and enforcement of judgments and decisions in matrimonial matters, matters of parental responsibility and matters relating to maintenance obligations, and applicable law in matters relating to maintenance obligations

Amendment 2

Proposal for a regulation
Recital 2

Text proposed by the Commission

(2) Judicial cooperation in civil matters between Member States and third countries has traditionally been governed by agreements between Member States and third countries.

Amendment

(2) Judicial cooperation in civil matters between Member States and third countries has traditionally been governed by agreements between Member States and third countries. Such bilateral agreements relating to family-law matters, of which there are a large number, very often reflect historical links between the Member State in question and a particular third country or countries. They respond to a manifest need on the part of citizens in both the Member State and the third country concerned.

Amendment 3

Proposal for a regulation
Recital 4
There may also be a need for the conclusion of new agreements with third countries governing areas of civil justice that come within the purview of Title IV of the EC Treaty.

There is a manifest need for the conclusion of new agreements with third countries relating to family-law matters that come within the purview of Title IV of the EC Treaty given, in particular, that many existing bilateral agreements do not reflect present circumstances or require modernisation.

An assessment is needed of whether there currently exists sufficient Community interest in replacing all existing or proposed bilateral agreements between Member States and third countries with Community agreements. Consequently, it is necessary to establish a procedure with a twofold purpose. The first is to allow the Community to assess whether there is such sufficient Community interest in the conclusion of a particular bilateral agreement. The second is to authorise Member States to conclude the agreement at issue if there is no current Community interest in the conclusion of such an agreement.

On the other hand, in view of the potential number of bilateral agreements which will have to be concluded, the Community does not always have the resources to conclude such agreements directly. Consequently, it is necessary, in accordance with the principles laid down in Article 10 of the EC Treaty and the principle of sincere cooperation, for its institutions and the Member States to cooperate with a view to enabling the latter to amend existing agreements and, where necessary, to conclude new agreements in a manner consistent and in accordance with the Community's interest. It is therefore appropriate to establish a procedure with a twofold purpose. The first is to allow the Community to assess whether there is such sufficient Community interest in the conclusion of a particular bilateral agreement. The second is to authorise Member States to conclude the agreement at issue if there is no present Community interest in the conclusion of such an agreement. This approach is consonant with the usual Community practice whereby it is for Member States to execute Community law.

Amendment 5

Recital 9

Text proposed by the Commission

(9) A coherent and transparent procedure should be established to authorise Member States to amend existing agreements with third countries or to negotiate and conclude new agreements in exceptional circumstances, in particular where the Community itself has not indicated its intention to exercise its external competences to conclude the agreement. This procedure is without prejudice to the exclusive competence of the Community and the provisions of Articles 300 and 307 of the EC Treaty. Because it derogates from the rule that the Community is exclusively competent to conclude international agreements on these matters, the proposed procedure must be regarded as an exceptional measure and must be limited in scope and in time.

This amendment is necessary as a result of the deletion of the second paragraph of Article 11.

Amendment

2. If the Community has not yet concluded an agreement with the third country or third countries concerned, the Commission shall, in making its assessment, first check whether any relevant Community agreement with the third country or third countries concerned is specifically envisaged within the next twelve months. If this is not the case, the Commission shall check that all of the following conditions are met:

Amendment

2. Upon receipt of this notification the Commission shall assess whether the negotiated agreement complies with its initial assessment. In making this further assessment the Commission shall examine whether the negotiated agreement satisfies the conditions set out in Article 4, in particular as regards the inclusion of clauses referred to in Article 5(1).

Amendment 32
Proposal for a regulation
Article 11 – paragraph 2

Text proposed by the Commission

It shall apply until 31 December 2014. deleted

Justification
This need for such a sunset clause is not apparent. In any event 31 December 2014 is unrealistic having regard the time needed to adopt the Regulation and for Member States to conduct negotiations with third countries, particularly in view of the ponderous, time-consuming procedures laid down in the Regulation. In any event, the review clause set out in Article 10, which provides for the Commission to report to the other institutions by 1 January 2014, makes this sunset clause unnecessary.
