Dear Mr Borrell Fontelles,

I am writing regarding the decision of the European Parliament of the 15th December 2005, to establish an inquiry committee to investigate the alleged presumed use of countries members of the European Union by the CIA for the transportation and illegal detention of prisoners.

In this context allow me to present you a very serious case of illegal abduction and interrogation of Pakistani suspects in Greece. Despite the initial denials from the Greek government it was proven on a later stage that the illegal interrogations were conducted by a number of Greek and foreign members of secret services, including probably from United Kingdom.

These allegations have received great media coverage not only in Greece but also in United Kingdom and as a result, the national parliaments in both countries have requested explanations from their respective ministers.

Since it is very probable that this incident is related to the European -wide allegations for secret prisons and violations of human rights, involving CIA, I would kindly like to request you to forward this letter to the presidency of the temporary inquiry committee of the EP in order to include the abovementioned case in its investigations.

Thank you in advance for considering my request,

Yours sincerely,

Dimitris Papadimoulis, GUE/NGL
