

HILLSBOROUGH: RESISTING INJUSTICE, RECOVERING TRUTH

A lecture to launch the October issue of Race & Class in which Phil Scraton has written the lead article on the Hillsborough families' campaign, followed by a panel discussion on how families can challenge state injustice.

Wednesday 27 November 2013, 7-9pm

London School of Economics

Clements House (CLM 2.02, Second floor), Houghton Street, London WC2A 2AE

Phil Scraton

Author of Hillsborough: The Truth and two previous reports on the disaster. He was a member of the Hillsborough Independent Panel, headed its research and was primary author of its ground-breaking report. He is Professor of Criminology in the School of Law, Queen's University, Belfast. Chaired by Robert Reiner, Emeritus Professor of Criminology, Law Department at the LSE.

Followed by a panel discussion with Janet Alder, sister of Christopher Alder who died in the custody of Hull police in April 1998, Marcia Rigg, sister of Sean Rigg who died in the custody of Brixton police in August 2008 and Margaret Aspinall, Hillsborough Family Support Group. Chaired by Lord Herman Ouseley, member of the Institute of Race Relations' Council of Management and the chair of Kick it Out.

Organised by:
Race & Class
(Institute of Race Relations) and the Mannheim Centre for the Study of Criminology and Criminal Justice (LSE).

Supported by:
Hillsborough Family Support Group, INQUEST, Justice for Christopher Alder Campaign, Kick it Out, Migrant Media, Sean Rigg Justice and Change Campaign and the United Families and Friends Campaign.

RACE & CLASS

 SAGE

BOOKING IS ESSENTIAL please email: events@irr.org.uk