Eurodac

Eurodac is the European Dactyloscopy (fingerprints) database, operational since 2003 it is one of the instruments used in implementing the Common European Asylum System (CEAS). Eurodac facilitates the application of the Dublin Regulation by helping determine the country, responsible for the assessment of an asylum claim presented in the European Union or in an Associated Dublin State (Iceland, Liechtenstein, Norway, and Switzerland).

28 EU Member States and 4 Associated Dublin States use the system. On 20 July 2015, the new Eurodac Regulation No 603/2013 took effect and national police forces as well as Europol can now have access to the system, subject to strict conditions, for the purpose of prevention, detection and investigation of terrorist offences as well as other serious criminal offences.
