THE “JOURNEY OF DEATH”¹

- OVER 700 PRISONERS ILLEGALLY RENDERED TO GUANTANAMO WITH THE HELP OF PORTUGAL -

Reprieve can now conclusively show that the Portuguese territory and airspace has been used to transfer over 700 prisoners to torture and illegal imprisonment in Guantanamo Bay.

Through comparing flight logs obtained from Portuguese authorities,² information from the US Department of Defence showing dates of arrival of prisoners at Guantanamo Bay, and unclassified testimony from many of the prisoners themselves,³ Reprieve is for the first time able to name 728 prisoners rendered to Guantanamo Bay through Portuguese jurisdiction.

² Flight logs obtained by Ana Gomes MEP in 2006 reveal that on at least 94 occasions aircraft crossed Portuguese airspace en route to or from Guantanamo Bay between 2002-2006. On at least 6 occasions rendition aircraft flew directly from Lajes in the Azores to Guantanamo. See appendix for full copies of the logs.
³ The US Department of Defence has released ‘in-process’ records of Guantanamo inmates, detailing when prisoners were first weighed and measured on entry to the prison. It is possible confirm the identities of prisoners transported to Guantanamo through Portuguese jurisdiction by matching the ‘in-process’ dates of particular prisoners held in Guantanamo with flights contained in the Portuguese flight logs. This research reveals that of 774 prisoners recorded as having been weighed-in at Guantanamo, 728 were flown through Portuguese jurisdiction in at least 28 flights. See US Department of Defense records http://www.dod.mil/pubs/foi/detainees/measurements/index.html
Research also shows that Portugal has played a substantial supporting role in the wider renditions programme. At least nine prisoners transported through Portuguese jurisdiction had been severely tortured in secret prisons around the world before their arrival in Guantanamo Bay.\(^4\)

Case studies – prisoners rendered to Guantanamo Bay with the help of the Portuguese Government

a. Sami Muhideen Al-Haj, ISN 345, Sudanese National,6 transported on board flight RCH790y on 14 June 2002 from Incirlik, Turkey crossing Portuguese jurisdiction

Sami Muhideen al-Haj, the Al Jazeera journalist originally from the Sudan, was seized on December 15, 2001, as he went on assignment to Afghanistan. Sami was originally seized because the US thought that he had filmed a Bin Laden interview - an ‘allegation’ that turned out to be entirely false, as the US now acknowledges. But the US continued to hold Sami because they wanted him to say that Al Jazeera, his employers, have links with al-Qaida. He has steadfastly refused to do this.

Sami flew from Kandahar to Guantánamo. During the last leg of his journey the soldiers would not let Sami sleep. They woke him every 15 minutes or so. When Sami arrived in GTMO, he found out why he had been deprived of sleep. As soon as he landed, he was taken to interrogation. The soldiers had wanted him to be exhausted for this.

A prisoner who was on board the same flight as Sami al Haj describes his journey thus:

“The conditions of the flight were horrific. Our hands and legs were shackled, we had ear muffs on our ears, we had a mask on our face and we had goggles on our eyes, and the goggles were covered with paint so we couldn’t see anything through them and we had mittens. I lost consciousness a few times because of the lack of oxygen. And the flight took 28 hours.”

On January 7, 2007, Sami al Haj started a hunger strike in peaceful protest against his detention without charge or trial. The US military’s response has been to strap him down to a chair, pass a 100cm plastic tube up his nostrils, and pump in liquid nutrients. They pull the tube completely out before a second feeding, later in the day. Though this process makes hunger-striking unspeakably painful, Sami’s strike continues to this day.

b. Binyam Mohamed, ISN 1458, British resident, transported on board flight RCH948y on 19 September 2004 from Incirlik (Turkey) crossing Portuguese jurisdiction OR on board flight RCH947 on 20 September 2004 from Lajes, Portuguese territory of the Azores Binyam Mohamed was born in Ethiopia, where his family faced persecution. At 14 he came to London to seek asylum. He lived in North Kensington for five years. In the summer of 2001, Binyam left the UK to travel. In April 2002, on his way home, he was arrested by the Pakistan immigration authorities. In July 2002, he was handed to the Americans who bundled him into a jet and flew him to Morocco where he endured 18 months of torture in a black site where his mistreatment included having his penis repeatedly slashed with a razor blade.

“What kind of torture do they do in this place?” I asked one of the guards.

“They’ll come in wearing masks and beat you up. They’ll beat you with sticks. They’ll rape you first, then they’ll take a glass bottle, they break the top off and make you sit on it.”

After months of torture in Morocco Binyam was flown, in January 2002, to the Dark Prison in Afghanistan, where he endured a further 5 months of torture.

“It was pitch black no lights on in the rooms for most of the time.... They hung me up. I was allowed a few hours of sleep on the second day, then hung up again, this time for two days. My legs had swollen. My wrists and hands had gone numb.... The CIA worked on people, including me, day and night.... Plenty lost their minds. I could hear people knocking their heads against the walls and the doors, screaming their heads off.”

Bagram airbase was Binyam’s next destination, where he was forced to make a confession based on statements extracted form him under torture in Morocco and Afghanistan. From there he was transported with 9 other prisoners either on RCH948Y or RCH947 to Guantanamo. After a flight of over twenty hours, the prisoners landed in the heat of Cuba and were put in isolation from other prisoners for six days in Camp 5, in Delta Block.

“The air conditioning was put very cold. We would sleep on the bare floor, with its coldness as our bed and the chilly air as our blanket. We went on hunger strike for five days, we fell ill...”

Binyam has been imprisoned in Guantanamo Bay since September 2004. Reprieve still works for his safe return.

c. Moazzam Begg, ISN 558, British national, transported – on board flight RCH191Y from Incirlik, Turkey on 7 February 2003 crossing Portuguese jurisdiction

Moazzam Begg spent just over three years in extra-judicial detention in Guantánamo Bay and other US detention camps. Held in Kandahar, Bagram and finally Guantanamo he was subjected to over three hundred interrogations and narrowly avoided being sent to torture camps in Egypt and Libya.

Moazzam was on board flight RCH191Y from Incirlik, Turkey to Guantanamo on 7 February 2003. Moazzam, who was drugged before his flight from Bagram, described the conditions of the flight:

“Inside the plane there was a chain around our waist, and it connected to cuffs around my wrists, which were tied in the back, and to my ankles. We were seated but it was so painful not being able to speak, to hear, to breathe properly, to look, to turn left or right, to move your hands, stretch your legs, or anything.”

“When I did arrive in Guantánamo in February 2003, I was taken straight into a solitary confinement cell, an 8ft by 6ft converted shipping container. This again had no access to natural light. There was a soldier watching on at any given time. This became my home for almost two years.”

In 2005, Moazzam Begg was released without charge, compensation or apology.

d. Shafiq Rasul, ISN 86
British national, Asif Iqbal, ISN 87
British national – on board flight RCH076y from Incirlik (Turkey) on 14 Jan 2002 through Portuguese jurisdiction

'The only thing that relieved the sensory deprivation and occupied me for the 22-hour flight was that I was in serious pain. The guards told me to go to sleep but the belt was digging into me - when I finally got to Cuba I was bleeding. I lost feeling in my hands for the next six months.'

24-year old Shafiq Rasul, 20-year old Asif Iqbal and 20-year old Ruhel Ahmed – childhood friends from Tipton in the West Midlands – had travelled to Pakistan in September 2001 for Asif’s wedding. Ahmed was Asif’s best man. Soon after their arrival the invasion of Afghanistan began and they made the fateful decision that an exciting adventure awaited them over the border, just a short bus ride away. In Afghanistan they became enmeshed in worsening violence and attempting to flee became caught in a column of around 35,000 prisoners of Northern Alliance leader Dostum. They were handed to the Americans and flown to Kandahar where they were repeatedly beaten and interrogated. Shafiq and Asif were transported on the second flight to Guantanamo from Kandahar on January 14, 2002. Ruhel followed on a later flight. En route, the plane stopped in Incirlik airbase in the South of Turkey, then flew through Portuguese airspace. The ‘Tipton three’ have now been released from Guantanamo.

In Kandahar prison in Afghanistan, Ruhel Ahmed was dressed in an orange jumpsuit, chained, cuffed, with earmuffs, goggles and surgical masks and thrown into a US military aircraft onto the floor of which he was chained. His plane also stopped in Incirlik, Turkey and the prisoners were hauled into a C141 aircraft with registration RCH481y to complete the flight to Cuba, passing through Portuguese jurisdiction.

“When I got there I was half dead. We had a two-hour stopover somewhere in Turkey. As we were being frog-marched from one plane to another, one of the guards stamped on the metal body bar of my three-piece suit so the leg-irons bit deeply into the flesh of my ankles.”

After a flight that lasted in total around 22 hours, Ruhel Ahmed and another UK resident, Said Farhi, arrived in Cuba. Little is known about Said Farhi, as Reprieve has still not been able to visit him in Guantanamo.

f. Shaker Aamer (ISN 239 - British resident – still held in Guantanamo) 13 February 2002 RCH485y from Incirlik (Turkey) via Portuguese jurisdiction.

“I am dying here every day, mentally and physically. This is happening to all of us. We have been ignored, locked up in the middle of the ocean for years.”

Shaker Aamer is a long-term British resident who was abducted in Pakistan and sold to US forces for $5,000. Shaker and his British wife Zennira have four British children, aged between five and nine, the youngest of whom Shaker has never seen.

Shaker suffered particularly vicious torture in the Dark Prison in Kabul. He was transferred to Bagram Airforce base at the end of December 2001 where he also suffered terrible abuse, including being beaten and forced to stay awake for days on end. Later he was moved to Kandahar, where he describes his treatment as follows:

“They were jumping up and down on me in their boots, on my back and head. Yelling about my religion, my family and my race. A soldier took the Holy Qur’an and threw it in the shit bucket on the floor. Then they sent us to Gitmo, the evil island.”

g. Tarek Dergoul, ISN 534\textsuperscript{23} – British national, probably transported on RCH711y on 5 May 2002 from Incirlik (Turkey) via Portuguese jurisdiction.

Tarek Dergoul was born and raised in Mile End, East London. His parents are Moroccan. He sold double glazing, cleaned offices, drove a minicab and worked for the elderly. Many of Tarek’s friends were Pakistani and in the summer of 2001 he decided to visit the country for a long holiday. After September 11 Tarek thought he could buy land cheaply with his friends in the peaceful part of Afghanistan but was caught in the bombing of Jalalabad. His friends were killed and for the next week he lay wounded in the rubble. He was found by the Northern Alliance who took him to a hospital where his arm was amputated. He was then sold to the Americans for $5000 and flown to Bagram, then in February 2002 to Kandahar.

In early May 2002, Tarek was dressed in an orange jumpsuit, a black bag placed over ear-muffs placed on his head, and he was placed in three-piece handcuffs.

“I thought I was going home. The journey was long, about fifteen hours, sitting all the way, with nothing to eat.”

Tarek ultimately spent two years in Guantanamo before being released without charge in March 2003.

h. Ahmed Errachidi, ISN 590\textsuperscript{24} - British resident, transported on 14 June 2002 on RCH790y from Incirlik (Turkey) via Portuguese jurisdiction. Flight originated in Bagram

Ahmed Errachidi was born in Tangier, Morocco on 17 March 1966. He has a wife and two young boys. Ahmed lived and worked as a chef in London for around 17 years. The people who know Ahmed report that he is a kind and generous man who has never shown signs of extremism.

In 2001, Ahmed learned that his youngest son had been diagnosed with a potentially fatal heart defect and needed surgery, so Ahmed travelled to Pakistan to start a jewellery import business to raise money for his operation. Struck by the scenes of suffering in the wake of the US bombing campaign in Afghanistan, Ahmed went into Afghanistan to help people flee. He quickly realized he could do nothing and that it was too dangerous to remain, however on his return to Pakistan Ahmed was arrested after a traffic accident. Pakistani authorities said they would deport him but like so many others Ahmed was sold for a bounty to the US.

\textsuperscript{23} In-processed 15 May 2002

From Pakistan, Ahmed was taken to Bagram and then to Guantánamo. The US claimed Ahmed was in an Al-Qaeda training camp in July 2001 but Reprieve’s investigation revealed he was working as a chef in the Westbury Hotel at that time.

After five long years of imprisonment, the US government concluded that there was no reason for Ahmed to be at Guantánamo. He was released in May 2007 and sent to Morocco.

i. Abdennour Sameur, ISN 659\textsuperscript{25}, British resident, still held in Guantánamo) rendered on 16 June 2002 RCH793y from Incirlik (Turkey) via Portuguese jurisdiction. Flight originated in Kandahar.

Abdennour Sameur was granted asylum in the UK in April 2000, having fled from Algeria for fear of persecution at the hands of the military dictatorship.

In the summer of 2001, Abdennour decided to travel for a few months to Afghanistan to experience living in an Islamic country. He had a return ticket back to the UK, where he looked forward to getting citizenship, marrying and working as a house painter and decorator.

After 9/11 Abdennour suddenly found himself in a country engulfed by war. He fled to Pakistan en route to the UK but was seized by villagers and turned over to the Pakistani army for a bounty. Abdennour spent over two months in US custody in Afghanistan, before being transferred to Guantánamo Bay.

Finally Abdennour was released in December 2007, and has been able to return home to the UK.

12. 26/3/2002, ELD5110 (Electra Airlines), from Santa Maria (Azores) – passed through Portuguese jurisdiction

In addition to suspect flights crossing Portuguese airspace, a number landed on Portuguese territory of Lajes, in the Azores. For instance, on 26 March 2002 - ELD5110 (Electra Airlines) – flew from Santa Maria (Azores) –to Guantanamo (Cuba) leaving Portuguese airspace at 13:32 that day. On 29 March 2002 Afghan citizen Mohamed Kabel, aged 39 years, was in-processed into Guantanamo Bay.

No other planes in Portuguese or Spanish logs are recorded as arriving in Guantanamo near to Kabel’s ‘in-process’ so it is highly likely that he was on board ELD5110. The plane’s origin, prior to Santa Maria, is unknown. It is quite possible that Kabel was being held in a black site prior to his arrival in Portuguese territory.
