- (1) A number of substantive changes are to be made to Council Directive 2005/85/EC of 1 December 2005 on minimum standards on procedures for granting and withdrawing refugee status³. In the interest of clarity, that Directive should be recast.

- (2) A common policy on asylum, including a Common European Asylum System, is a constituent part of the European Union's objective of establishing progressively an area of freedom, security and justice open to those who, forced by circumstances, legitimately seek protection in the ☒ Union ☒ Community. ⇒ It should be governed by the principle of solidarity and fair sharing of responsibility, including its financial implications, between the Member States. ⇐

↓ 2005/85/EC recital 2

- (3) The European Council, at its special meeting in Tampere on 15 and 16 October 1999, agreed to work towards establishing a Common European Asylum System, based on the full and inclusive application of the Geneva Convention of 28 July 1951 relating to the status of refugees, as amended by the New York Protocol of 31 January 1967 (Geneva Convention), thus affirming the principle of non-refoulement and ensuring that nobody is sent back to persecution.

➔ Council

- (6) The European Council, at its meeting of 4 November 2004, adopted the Hague Programme, which set the objectives to be implemented in the area of freedom, security and justice in the period 2005-2010. In this respect, the Hague Programme invited the European Commission to conclude the evaluation of the first phase legal instruments and to submit the second phase instruments and measures to the Council and the European Parliament. In accordance with the Hague Programme, the objective to be pursued for the creation of the Common European Asylum System is the establishment of a common asylum procedure and a uniform status valid throughout the Union.

- (7) In the European Pact on Immigration and Asylum, adopted on 16 October 2008, the European Council noted that considerable disparities remain between one Member State and another concerning the grant of protection and called for new initiatives, including a proposal for establishing a single asylum procedure comprising common guarantees, to complete the establishment of a Common European Asylum System, provided for in the Hague Programme.
- (8) The European Council, at its meeting of 10-11 December 2009, adopted the Stockholm Programme which reconfirmed the commitment to establishing a common area of protection and solidarity based on a common asylum procedure and a uniform status for those granted international protection based on high protection standards and fair and effective procedures by 2012. The Stockholm Programme affirmed that people in need of international protection must be ensured access to legally safe and efficient asylum procedures. In accordance with the Stockholm Programme, individuals, regardless of the Member State in which their application for asylum is lodged, should be offered the same level of treatment as regards procedural arrangements and status determination. The objective should be that similar cases should be treated alike and result in the same outcome.
- (9) The resources of the European Refugee Fund and of the European Asylum Support Office, established by Regulation (EU) No 439/2010 of the European Parliament and of the Council⁴, should be mobilised to provide adequate support to the Member States' efforts relating to the implementation of the standards set in the second phase of the Common European Asylum System, in particular to those Member States which are faced with specific and disproportionate pressures on their asylum systems, due in particular to their geographical or demographic situation.

⇒(9a) When implementing this Directive Member States should take into account relevant guidelines developed by the European Asylum Support Office. ↻

(10) In order to ensure a comprehensive and efficient evaluation of the international protection needs of applicants within the meaning of Directive [.../.../EU] [on minimum standards for the qualification and status of third country nationals or stateless persons as beneficiaries of international protection and the content of the protection granted (the Qualification Directive)], the Union framework on procedures for granting international protection should be based on the concept of a single asylum procedure.

↓ 2005/85/EC recital 5

⇒ new

(11) The main objective of this Directive is to ⇒ further develop the standards for procedures in Member States for granting and withdrawing international protection with a view to establishing a common asylum procedure in the Union ⇐ ~~introduce a minimum framework in the Community on procedures for granting and withdrawing refugee status.~~

↓ 2005/85/EC recital 6

⇒ new

(12) The approximation of rules on the procedures for granting and withdrawing ⇒ international protection ⇐ ~~refugee status~~ should help to limit the secondary movements of applicants for ⇒ international protection ⇐ ~~asylum~~ between Member States, where such movement would be caused by differences in legal frameworks ⇒ , and create equivalent conditions for the application of Directive [.../.../EU] [the Qualification Directive] in Member States ⇐.

↓ 2005/85/EC recital 7

- (13) ~~It is in the very nature of minimum standards that~~ Member States should have the power to introduce or maintain more favourable provisions for third country nationals or stateless persons who ask for international protection from a Member State, where such a request is understood to be on the grounds that the person concerned is ⇒ in need of international protection ⇐ a refugee within the meaning of ⇒ Directive [...]/.../EU [the Qualification Directive] ⇐ ~~Article 1(A) of the Geneva Convention.~~

- (15) It is essential that decisions on all applications for ⇒ international protection ⇐ ~~asylum~~ be taken on the basis of the facts and, in the first instance, by authorities whose personnel has the appropriate knowledge or has received the necessary training in the field of asylum and ⇒ international protection ⇐ ~~refugee~~ matters.

↓ 2005/85/EC recital 11 (adapted)

- (16) It is in the interest of both Member States and applicants for ⇒ international protection ⇐ ~~asylum~~ ⊗ that a decision is made ⇐ ~~to make a decision~~ as soon as possible on applications for ⇒ international protection ⇐ ~~asylum~~, ⇒ without prejudice to an adequate and complete examination ⇐. ~~The organisation of the processing of applications for asylum should be left to the discretion of Member States, so that they may, in accordance with their national needs, prioritise or accelerate the processing of any application, taking into account the standards in this Directive.~~
- (17) It is also in the interest of both Member States and applicants to ensure a correct recognition of international protection needs already at first instance. To that end, applicants should be provided at first instance, free of charge, with legal and procedural information, taking into account their particular circumstances. The provision of such information should inter alia enable the applicants to better understand the procedure, thus helping them to comply with the relevant obligations. It would be disproportionate to require Member States to provide such information only through the services of qualified lawyers. Member States should therefore have the possibility to find the most appropriate modalities for the provision of such information, such as through non-governmental organisations, government officials or specialised services of the State.
- (18) In appeals procedures, subject to certain conditions, applicants should be granted free legal assistance and representation provided by persons competent to do so under national law. Furthermore, at all stages of the procedure, applicants should have the right to consult, at their own cost, legal advisers or counsellors permitted as such under national law.

- (20) In the interests of a correct recognition of those persons in need of protection as refugees within the meaning of Article 1 of the Geneva Convention ⇒ or as persons eligible for subsidiary protection ⇐, every applicant should, ~~subject to certain exceptions~~, have an effective access to procedures, the opportunity to cooperate and properly communicate with the competent authorities so as to present the relevant facts of his/her case and sufficient procedural guarantees to pursue his/her case throughout all stages of the procedure. Moreover, the procedure in which an application for ⇒ international protection ⇐ ~~asylum~~ is examined should normally provide an applicant at least with the right to stay pending a decision by the determining authority, access to the services of an interpreter for submitting his/her case if interviewed by the authorities, the opportunity to communicate with a representative of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) ⇒ and with organisations providing advice or counselling to applicants for international protection ⇐ ~~or with any organisation working on its behalf~~, the right to appropriate notification of a decision, a motivation of that decision in fact and in law, the opportunity to consult a legal adviser or other counsellor, and the right to be informed of his/her legal position at decisive moments in the course of the procedure, in a language he/she ⇒ understands or ⇐ ⊗ is ⊗ ~~can~~ reasonably be supposed to understand ⇒ and, in the case of a negative decision, the right to an effective remedy before a court of a tribunal ⇐.

~~In addition, specific procedural guarantees for unaccompanied minors should be laid down on account of their vulnerability. In this context, the best interests of the child should be a primary consideration of Member States.~~

(21) With a view to ensuring an effective access to the examination procedure, officials who first come into contact with persons seeking international protection, in particular those carrying out surveillance of land or maritime borders or conducting border checks, should receive instructions and necessary training on how to recognise and deal with requests for international protection → inter alia taking due account of relevant guidelines developed by the European Asylum Support Office ☺ . They should be able to provide third country nationals or stateless persons who are present in the territory, including at the border, in the territorial waters or in the transit zones of the Member States, and wish to request international protection, with all relevant information as to where and how applications for international protection may be lodged. Where those persons are present in the territorial waters of a Member State, they should be disembarked on land and have their applications examined in accordance with this Directive.

- (22) In order to facilitate access to the examination procedure at border crossing points and in detention facilities, information should be made available on the possibility to request international protection. Basic communication necessary to enable the competent authorities to understand if persons declare their wish to apply for international protection should be ensured through interpretation arrangements.
- (23) In addition, applicants in need of special procedural guarantees, such as minors, unaccompanied minors, persons who have been subjected to torture, rape or other serious acts of violence or disabled persons, should be provided with adequate support in order to create the conditions necessary for their effective access to procedures and presenting the elements needed to substantiate the application for international protection.
- (24) National measures dealing with identification and documentation of symptoms and signs of torture or other serious acts of physical or mental violence, including acts of sexual violence, in procedures covered by this Directive should inter alia be based on the Manual on Effective Investigation and Documentation of Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment (Istanbul Protocol).
- (25) With a view to ensuring substantive equality between female and male applicants, examination procedures should be gender sensitive. In particular, personal interviews should be organised in a way which makes it possible for both female and male applicants to speak about their past experiences in cases involving gender based persecution. The complexity of gender related claims should be properly taken into account in procedures based on the safe third country concept, the safe country of origin concept or the notion of subsequent applications.
- (26) The best interests of the child should be a primary consideration of Member States when implementing this Directive, in line with the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union and the 1989 United Nations Convention on the Rights of the Child.

(27) Procedures for examining international protection needs should be organised in a way that makes it possible for the competent authorities to conduct a rigorous examination of applications for international protection.

⇒ new

(28) Where an applicant makes a subsequent application without presenting new evidence or arguments, it would be disproportionate to oblige Member States to carry out a new full examination procedure. In these cases, Member States should ⇒ be able to dismiss an application as inadmissible in accordance with the res judicata principle ⇐ ~~have a choice of procedure involving exceptions to the guarantees normally enjoyed by the applicant.~~

↓ 2005/85/EC recital 16

⇒ new

(29) Many ~~asylum~~ applications ⇒ for international protection ⇐ are made at the border or in a transit zone of a Member State prior to a decision on the entry of the applicant. Member States should be able to ⇒ provide for admissibility and/or substantive examination procedures which make it possible to decide on applications made at the border or in transit zones at those locations in well-defined circumstances ⇐ ~~keep existing procedures adapted to the specific situation of these applicants at the border. Common rules should be defined on possible exceptions made in these circumstances to the guarantees normally enjoyed by applicants. Border procedures should mainly apply to those applicants who do not meet the conditions for entry into the territory of the Member States.~~

⇒ new

- (30) A key consideration for the well-foundedness of an ~~asylum~~ application ⇒ for international protection ⇐ is the safety of the applicant in his/her country of origin. Where a third country can be regarded as a safe country of origin, Member States should be able to designate it as safe and presume its safety for a particular applicant, unless he/she presents ~~serious~~ counter-indications.

↓ 2005/85/EC recital 18

- (31) Given the level of harmonisation achieved on the qualification of third country nationals and stateless persons as refugees, common criteria for designating third countries as safe countries of origin should be established.

↓ 2005/85/EC recital 19

~~Where the Council has satisfied itself that those criteria are met in relation to a particular country of origin, and has consequently included it in the minimum common list of safe countries of origin to be adopted pursuant to this Directive, Member States should be obliged to consider applications of persons with the nationality of that country, or of stateless persons formerly habitually resident in that country, on the basis of the rebuttable presumption of the safety of that country. In the light of the political importance of the designation of safe countries of origin, in particular in view of the implications of an assessment of the human rights situation in a country of origin and its implications for the policies of the European Union in the field of external relations, the Council should take any decisions on the establishment or amendment of the list, after consultation of the European Parliament.~~

↓ 2005/85/EC recital 20 (adapted)

- (32) ~~It results from the status of Bulgaria and Romania as candidate countries for accession to the European Union and the progress made by these countries towards membership that they should be regarded as constituting safe countries of origin for the purposes of this Directive until the date of their accession to the European Union.~~

⇒ new

- (33) The designation of a third country as a safe country of origin for the purposes of this Directive cannot establish an absolute guarantee of safety for nationals of that country. By its very nature, the assessment underlying the designation can only take into account the general civil, legal and political circumstances in that country and whether actors of persecution, torture or inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment are subject to sanction in practice when found liable in the country concerned. For this reason, it is important that, where an applicant shows that there are ⇒ valid ⇐ ~~serious~~ reasons to consider the country not to be safe in his/her particular circumstances, the designation of the country as safe can no longer be considered relevant for him/her.

↓ 2005/85/EC recital 22 (adapted)

- (34) Member States should examine all applications on the substance, i.e. assess whether the applicant in question qualifies ☒ for international protection ☒ ~~as a refugee~~ in accordance with Directive [...]/.../EU [the Qualification Directive] Council Directive 2004/83/EC of 29 April 2004 on minimum standards for the qualification and status of third country nationals or stateless persons as refugees or as persons who otherwise need international protection and the content of the protection granted, except where the present Directive provides otherwise, in particular where it can be reasonably assumed that another country would do the examination or provide sufficient protection. Member States should only proceed on this basis where this particular applicant would be safe in the third country concerned. In order to avoid secondary movements of applicants, common principles for the consideration or designation by Member States of third countries as safe should be established.

- (36) Furthermore, with respect to certain European third countries, which observe particularly high human rights and refugee protection standards, Member States should be allowed to not carry out, or not to carry out full examination of ~~asylum~~ applications ⇒ for international protection ⇐ regarding applicants who enter their territory from such European third countries. ~~Given the potential consequences for the applicant of a restricted or omitted examination, this application of the safe third country concept should be restricted to cases involving third countries with respect to which the Council has satisfied itself that the high standards for the safety of the third country concerned, as set out in this Directive, are fulfilled. The Council should take decisions in this matter after consultation of the European Parliament.~~

In the same vein, Cion indicated it would like to keep the concept of the legal guardian in the Directive.

¹⁸ Reservation: DE, SI and scrutiny reservation: AT, BE, CY, EL, ES, HU, FR, IT, NL, PL, RO, SE

In this context, Cion indicated that a person becomes an applicant for international protection from the moment he/she expresses a request for protection to any authority - the determining authority or any other competent authority.

FR expressed concerns about mandatory time limits.

HU proposed changing the order of subparagraphs 2 and 3.

NL, SE requested clarification of the wording of Article 6 in relation to the Dublin Regulation.

Cion regretted that any reference to training and EASO guidelines has been deleted from the article, such reference only appearing in recital (21).

¹⁹ CY, IT, SI, SK, proposed "intends to make an application".

²⁰ Reservation FR expressing concerns about the administrative consequences for non competent authorities in the field of asylum.

²¹ SE proposed "may" instead of "shall".

²² DE proposed to insert "with the determining authority".

²³ Scrutiny reservation: BE, CZ, DE, EL, ES, FI, SE, SI

DE proposed to make application of Article 28 dependent on the same conditions as included in Article 33 of the Directive currently in force.

EL noted that ambiguity about making a request for international protection and lodging an application can have consequences for the application of the Statistics Regulation.

3. Member States may require that applications for international protection be lodged in person and/or at a designated place, without prejudice to paragraph 2

4.²⁴ Without prejudice to paragraph 3, an application for international protection shall be deemed to have been lodged once a form submitted by the applicant or, where this is foreseen in national law, an official report has reached the competent authorities of the Member State concerned where applications for international protection can be lodged

5.²⁵ Where the simultaneous request for international protection by a large number of third country nationals or stateless persons makes it impossible in practice to respect the time limit laid down in paragraph 1, Member States may provide for that time limit to be extended to 10 working days.

²⁴ Reservation: SI and scrutiny reservation: ES

²⁵ Reservation: EL, ES, IT on time limit in case of a large influx of applicants for international protection. In this context, IT proposed "30 working days".

~~2. Member States shall ensure that each adult having legal capacity has the right to make an application for asylum on his/her own behalf.~~

²⁹ Scrutiny reservation: IT

³⁰ Scrutiny reservation: AT, HU, PT, RO, SK

EE, HU, PT considered that the relevant information can be provided with a brochure.

EE, RO requested clarification on the implementation of the last sentence.

Cion opposed the phrase "in response to an enquiry from the third country national or stateless person in this respect", considering the risk of refoulement in case no adequate information and interpretation arrangements would be available.

2.³¹ Member States shall ensure that organisations and persons providing advice and counselling to applicants for international protection have access to the applicants present at border crossing points, including transit zones, at external borders. 1. Applicants shall be allowed to remain in the Member State, for the sole purpose of the procedure, until the determining authority has made a decision in accordance with the procedures at first instance set out in Chapter III. This right to remain shall not constitute an entitlement to a residence permit.

³¹ Linguistic reservation: DE
Reservation: NL expressing concerns about the security implications of allowing access to border crossing points. In addition, NL proposed to indicate that it is the applicant that should go to the NGOs and not the other way around. In response, Cion indicated that several Member States already allow NGOs access to border points on the basis of security agreements.

³² Scrutiny reservation: CY, ES

2.³³ Member States can make an exception only where ~~in accordance with Articles 32 and 34,~~

3.³⁷ A Member State may extradite an applicant to a third country pursuant to paragraph 2 only where the competent authorities are satisfied that an extradition decision will not result in direct or indirect refoulement in violation of international obligations of the Member State.

³³ Reservation: CZ, DE and scrutiny reservation: AT NL proposed to add as a third ground for making an exception, the situation where "the person may for serious reasons be considered a danger to the national security or public order of the Member State".

³⁴ Reservation: AT, NL on the reference to Article 41.

³⁵ Council Framework Decision 2002/584/JHA of 13 June 2002 on the European arrest warrant and the surrender procedures between Member States (OJ L 190, 18.7.2002, p. 1).

³⁶ DE proposed to delete the phrase "with the exception of the country of origin of the applicant concerned.". In this context, DE submitted a proposal (17408/11) that was supported by AT. Alternatively, AT suggested to add the words "if that country is the country of the alleged persecution" after the words "with the exception of the country of origin of the applicant concerned".

In response, Cion indicated that the new proposal is not intended to result in a change of substance and that surrendering or extraditing a persons to the country of origin is forbidden on the base of case-law.

³⁷ DE expressed concerns about paragraph 3 arguing it would limit the possibilities for Member States to extradite a person which currently is not allowed as the Directive currently in force only makes a reference to extradition. In that context, DE requested clarification whether the legal base of the recast proposal covers this new limitation.

⁴¹ Scrutiny reservation: EL, NL, RO as regards the level of detail of this provision and the possible costs involved.

NL, RO proposed to delete the phrase ", such as medical, cultural, religious, child-related or gender issues" considering it more important to highlight that the personnel examining applications and taking decisions in each case undertake an individual assessment.

RO expressed concerns that this provision could be a basis for litigation and result in interpretation by a court.

⁴² Scrutiny reservation: DE, LV, SE, SI. In response, Cion pointed to the contribution of rules concerning the translation of documents for improving frontloading in the asylum procedure.

AT, LV, SI expressed a preference for keeping "may".

DE considered this paragraph more appropriately placed in the preamble.

Requirements for a decision by the determining authority

1. Member States shall ensure that decisions on applications for ~~international protection~~ ~~asylum~~ are given in writing.
- 2.⁴³ Member States shall also ensure that, where an application is rejected ~~with regard to refugee status and/or subsidiary protection status~~⁴⁴, the reasons in fact and in law are stated in the decision and information on how to challenge a negative decision is given in writing.

~~Member States need not state the reasons for not granting refugee status in a decision where the applicant is granted a status which offers the same rights and benefits under national and Community law as the refugee status by virtue of Directive 2004/83/EC. In these cases, Member States shall ensure that the reasons for not granting refugee status are stated in the applicant's file and that the applicant has, upon request, access to his/her file.~~

⁴³ Reservation: NL opposing deletion of the subparagraph given that its national system provides for the grant of a single status and that, sanctioned by the highest court in the Netherlands, no appeal is possible on the issue whether the basis for that status is the Geneva Convention or provisions on subsidiary protection. Against that background, NL proposed as first subparagraph: "Member States shall also ensure that, where a decision is taken not to grant a protection status or not to grant a protection status which contains the same rights applicable to refugees as described in Chapter VII of [the Qualification Directive], the reasons in fact and in law are stated in the decision and information on how to challenge a negative decision is given in writing.". For the same reason, NL has a reservation on Article 46.

⁴⁴ CY proposed to replace the phrase "with regard to refugee status and/or subsidiary protection status" with "application for international protection". CY argued that applications are examined in a single procedure and consequently, that there is no reason to state the reasons in case a refugee status is not granted refugee status while subsidiary protection status is granted.

~~Moreover~~, Member States need not provide information on how to challenge a negative decision in writing in conjunction with a decision where the applicant has been provided with this information at an earlier stage either in writing or by electronic means accessible to the applicant.

- 3.⁴⁵ For the purposes of Article ~~7(2) 6(2)~~, and whenever the application is based on the same grounds, Member States may take one single decision, covering all dependants ⇒ , unless this would lead to the disclosure of particular circumstances of an applicant which could jeopardize his/her interests, in particular in cases involving gender, sexual orientation, gender identity and/or age based persecution ⇐.

⁴⁸ Cion opposed "Whenever possible," given the intrusiveness of a search of a person and, moreover, considering it always possible to find a same sex person to perform such a search.

⁵¹ SE proposed to strengthen the rights of a child to be heard (see document 16753/11).

⁵² AT pointed to the sequence of references to other provisions of the directive which reduce its readability.

Where a large number of third country nationals or stateless persons simultaneously request international protection, which makes it impossible in practice for the determining authority to conduct timely interviews on the substance of an application, Member States may provide that the personnel of another authority be temporarily involved in conducting such interviews. 2. A personal interview shall take place under conditions which ensure appropriate confidentiality.

In response Cion indicated that persons who have good reasons to be interviewed by a same sex interviewer can be expected to have problems with duly motivating the reasons for wanting a same sex interviewer to an interviewer of another sex.

Scrutiny reservation: ES, NL, SK

ES, HU, NL, SK could support neither the Presidency suggestion nor the Cion proposal, finding both of them unworkable in practice. These delegations found the reference to "discriminatory grounds" unclear and considered "wherever possible" sufficient. In response, Cion gave as an example of a discriminatory ground an applicant from Afghanistan who refuses to be interviewed by a woman.

In this context, MT requested clarification what further proceedings the Asylum Procedures Directive foresees in case a demand for a same sex interviewer and an interpreter is refused and the interview does not take place. Would Article 28.1(a) apply in such cases?

Cion expressed concerns about the use of "discriminatory grounds" given that these are difficult to determine in an objective manner and because such grounds do not seem to be sufficient reason for denying access to the asylum procedure.

In light of point (d), Cion could support the deletion from Article 34 of the provision prohibiting people to wear an uniform when conducting admissibility interviews.

Reservation: AT, DE, EE, ES on a general prohibition to wear an uniform considering that more flexibility is needed given that requests for asylum made at the border are usually addressed to a policeman in uniform. In response, Cion indicated that such situation does not fall under the provision in Article 15(3)(d) as this provision only covers the personal and the admissibility interview. To that end, Member States shall ensure that the applicant is fully informed of the content of the report⁷⁰, with the assistance of an interpreter if necessary. CZ, HU, supported by Cion, expressed concerns that the level of guarantees for applicants is lowered and requested clarification on the exact moment in time the phrase "as the decision is made" is referring to.

Cion expressed doubts about the last sentence arguing that the current acquis already provides for access to the report. ⁷² Reservation: AT, SI, SK and scrutiny reservation: BG, CZ, ES, FR, IT, LU, LV, NL, RO wanting to avoid additional obligations for Member States and expressing concerns about longer delays and additional administrative burden. In response, Cion indicated that the provision does not give a right to appeal in case the determining authority decides not to conduct a medical examination.

SE, supported by HU, LV, proposed to put explicit time limits. AT wanted that the results of the examination are "immediately" submitted. LU proposed that the applicant should submit the results to the determining authority "as soon as possible." CZ preferred the text of document 5168/12 because there the time limit started from the moment the authorities had provided information about the possibility for the applicant to arrange a medical examination him/herself. RO indicated that, given the involvement of medical professionals, it is not possible to set time limits for submitting the results of the medical examination which could lengthen the procedure. In response, Cion specified under reference to Article 13(1), that also without an explicit time limit, Member States are allowed to set time limits for presenting the results of a medical examination..

⁷⁶ Reservation: IT, MT and scrutiny reservation: AT, DE, EE, EL, FR, HU, LV, PT, SI, SK considering that Article 11.2 and Article 12.1(f) and the provisions on appeal, which provide for information by the legal representative, offer sufficient safeguards for informing the applicant. In response, Cion indicated that the added value of Article 19 is that the reasons of the negative decision are clarified and explained in the light of the personal circumstances of the applicant.

AT, EE, FR, SK preferred the version in document 5168/12.

⁷⁷ Reservation: AT, CY, CZ and scrutiny reservation: FR, MT, opposed by RO, considering that information on the procedure should be given in general and, moreover, that the reasons for the rejection is given in the letter of decision. These delegations proposed to delete the phrase: "in the light of the applicant's particular circumstances". In response, Cion indicated that the aim of this phrase is not that the Member State enter in the detail of the applicant's individual situation but only that the Member State provides information about the procedure that will apply to the applicant (accelerated procedure, border procedure, etc) in his/her particular case. Moreover, in providing such information, Member States have a margin to determine the level of detail.

⁷⁸ Cion, supported by SE, opposed the deletion of the phrase "and of explanations of reasons in fact and in law". Cion argued that the deleted phrase aims at providing more information to applicants so that he/she would be in a better position to estimate if a possible appeal would have chances of success.

HU suggested to specify that another representative is nominated in case the initial representative cannot participate in the interview so as to avoid postponement of the interview.

¹⁰¹ Reservation: HU, NL, PT, RO, SE (see document 16753/11) proposing to delete the phrase: "shall have the necessary expertise in the field of childcare". In this context, RO expressed doubts whether the legal basis of the Directive was sufficient for including this phrase. In response, Cion indicated that such expertise is needed for the representative to be effective.

AT, EE, ES, FR, LV proposed to delete paragraph 6 considering that there is no reason to allow exemptions for unaccompanied minors from the provisions mentioned in this paragraph. However, DE, ES could as a compromise accept the text in case the reference to Article 46(6) would be removed and LV derogations for unaccompanied minors below the age of 14 years.

HU suggested not to apply accelerated procedures and border procedures in case of unaccompanied minors.

Cion strongly opposed the Presidency suggestion for paragraph 5 referring to international law obligations such as the Convention on the Rights of the Child, and arguing that these procedures put the applicant in a disadvantageous position and, moreover, can have serious consequences given that there can be no automatic application that the applicant is allowed to remain on the territory of the Member State.

HU suggested to set the same conditions with regard to the removal of unaccompanied minors from the Member State's territory as in Article 10.2 of the Return Directive: "the authorities shall be satisfied that he or she will be returned to a member of his or her family, a nominated guardian or adequate reception facilities in the state of return."

2. Member States may also decide that the determining authority can decide to discontinue the examination without taking a decision. In this case, Member States shall ensure that the determining authority enters a notice in the applicant's file.

Procedure in the case of implicit withdrawal or abandonment of the application¹¹⁴

1.¹¹⁵ When there is reasonable cause to consider that an applicant for ~~⇒ international protection~~ ~~⇐ asylum~~ has implicitly withdrawn or abandoned his/her application ~~for asylum~~, Member States shall ensure that the determining authority takes a decision to either discontinue the examination or ~~⇒~~, provided that the determining authority considers the application to be unfounded on the basis of an adequate examination of its substance in line with Article 4 of Directive [...]/.../EU] [~~the Qualification Directive~~] ~~⇒ [...]~~ ~~⇐~~ ~~⇒ [...]~~ ~~⇐~~ reject the application ~~on the basis that the applicant has not established an entitlement to refugee status in accordance with Directive 2004/83/EC.~~ ~~⇒ [...]~~ ~~⇐~~¹¹⁶

¹¹⁷ Scrutiny reservation: CZ, HU
CZ considered this paragraph to be too favourable for an applicant who fails to cooperate with the authorities on his asylum application and who often has left the territory of the Member State.

HU explained that in Hungary it is not allowed to start a new procedure in a case where the applicant has disappeared.

¹¹⁸ HU remarked that the provision should refer to the Articles 33 and 40 instead of 40 and 41. SI opposed the entitlement to make a new application that would not be subject to the arrangements concerning subsequent applications. In response, Cion explained that a Member State can consider an application as a subsequent application after the time-limit of at least one year. From that moment on, the applicant needs to submit new elements for having his application examined again.

Member States may provide for a time limit ¹¹⁹ of at least 6 months after which the applicant's case can no longer be re-opened or the new application may be treated as a subsequent application and subject to the procedure referred to in Articles 40 and 41. Member States may provide that the applicant's case may be reopened only once.

Member States shall ensure that such a person is not removed contrary to the principle of non-refoulement.

NL expressed doubts about the need to enumerate in the article a list of cases in which accelerated procedures are possible considering that the heading sets out the condition that accelerated procedures need to be in accordance with the basic principles and guarantees of Chapter II sufficient.

DE considered that the points (b), (e) and (k) are the most important points that need to be re-inserted.

SI considered that the points (i) and (n) are the most important points that need to be re-inserted.

¹²⁹ AT, DE, SE, SI opposed the proposed deletion proposing at the same time to include subsidiary protection.

SE, under reference to document 16753/11, suggested to have a more general ground as laid down in Article 23.4(b) of the directive currently in force, extended to subsidiary protection, instead of listing specific grounds for accelerated procedures. ¹³⁷ (e1) ~~The applicant has introduced a subsequent application for international protection that is not inadmissible in accordance with Article 40(5); or~~ ¹³⁵ CY expressed its preference for the Commission proposal.

Cion expressed doubts about "clearly in consistent and contradictory" as criteria for applying an accelerated procedure under reference to applicants who are suffering from Post Traumatic Stress Symptoms. These persons could give inconsistent and contradictory information because of their past experiences. This could result in their applications being examined in an accelerated procedure even though, because of their vulnerability, an examination with the full set of procedural guarantees would be more appropriate.

¹³⁶ DE, FR preferred the wording of point (g) in the Directive currently in force.

¹³⁷ Reservation: SI preferring ground (h) of the directive currently in force.
Cion opposed ground (e1) arguing that accelerated procedures are not needed given that no full examination of the subsequent application is needed. Furthermore, as regards ground (e1) in conjunction with Article 41, Cion pointed out that non automatic suspensive effect should only be used in case of applications that are abusive and/or unfounded.

Finally, Cion noted that a genuine refugee could refuse to have his/her fingerprints taken because of fear for authorities. FR found refusal of fingerprint taking an indication of abuse of the asylum procedure.

Article 36 ~~37~~¹⁶⁷

The safe country of origin concept

1. A third country designated as a safe country of origin in accordance with this Directive ~~either Article 29 or 30~~ may, after an individual examination of the application, be considered as a safe country of origin for a particular applicant ~~for asylum~~ only if:

(a) he/she has the nationality of that country; or

~~2. Member States shall, in accordance with paragraph 1, consider the application for asylum as unfounded where the third country is designated as safe pursuant to Article 29.~~

¹⁷⁴ Reservation: NL, SI and scrutiny reservation: AT, CZ, EE, EL, ES, FI, FR, HU, IT, RO, SE, SK

NL found the change from "may" into "shall" problematic given that the Dutch system does not have the concept of admissibility.

HU pointed out that an application made after an implicit withdrawal that resulted in discontinuation of the examination of the application on the basis of Article 82(2) is not covered by the regime of subsequent applications provided for in Article 40 in conjunction with Article 2(q).

¹⁷⁵ CY opposed the term "subsequent application". CY proposed not to allow appeal in case it is established that no new elements are presented.

¹⁷⁶ CZ requested clarification whether the "shall" provision has as a consequence that examination procedures need to be merged and that separate procedures for each application are no longer allowed. In response, Cion indicated that, on the basis of the paragraph, throughout the first instance procedure and the appeal stage, all further representations of a subsequent application need to be attached to the ongoing procedure.

~~2. Moreover, Member States may apply a specific procedure as referred to in paragraph 3, where a person makes a subsequent application for asylum:~~

~~(a) after his/her previous application has been withdrawn or abandoned by virtue of Articles 19 or 20;¹⁷⁷~~

~~(b) after a decision has been taken on the previous application. Member States may also decide to apply this procedure only after a final decision has been taken.~~

~~2. ¹⁷⁸ ⇒ For the purpose of taking a decision on the admissibility of an application for international protection pursuant to Article 33(2)(d), ⇐ a ~~A~~ subsequent application for international protection ⇐ asylum shall be subject first to a preliminary examination as to whether, ~~after the withdrawal of the previous application or after the decision referred to in paragraph 2(b) of this Article on this application has been reached,~~¹⁷⁹ new elements or findings ⊗ have arisen or have been presented by the applicant which relate ⊗ relating to the examination of whether ⊗ the applicant ⊗ he/she qualifies as a refugee ⇒ or a person eligible for subsidiary protection ⇐ by virtue of Directive [.../.../EU] [the Qualification Directive] ~~2004/83/EC have arisen or have been presented by the applicant.~~~~

¹⁷⁷ HU, SI opposed deletion of paragraph 2 of the directive currently in force.

¹⁷⁸ HU pointed to the different phrasing in paragraphs 2 and 3. Paragraph 2 uses the phrase "new elements or findings have arisen or have been presented by the applicant which relate" and paragraph 3 uses the phrase "new elements or findings have arisen or have been presented by the applicant which significantly add to the likelihood". In order to avoid a different level of proof, HU suggested to use in both cases the former phrase.

¹⁷⁹ HU opposed the proposed deletion of the phrase "after the withdrawal...has been reached".

~~3.4.~~ If, following the preliminary examination referred to in paragraph ~~2~~ ~~3~~ of this Article ~~⊗~~ concludes that ~~⊗~~ new elements or findings ~~⊗~~ have ~~⊗~~ arisen or ~~⊗~~ been ~~⊗~~ ~~are~~ presented by the applicant which significantly add to the likelihood of the applicant qualifying as a refugee ~~⇒~~ or a person eligible for subsidiary protection ~~⇐~~ by virtue of Directive ~~⊗~~ [.../.../EU] [the Qualification Directive] ~~⊗~~ ~~2004/83/EC~~, the application shall be further examined in conformity with Chapter II. ~~⊗~~ Member States may also provide for other reasons for a subsequent application to be further examined. ~~⊗~~

~~5.~~ ~~Member States may, in accordance with national legislation, further examine a subsequent application where there are other reasons why a procedure has to be re-opened.~~

~~4.6.~~ Member States may decide to further examine the application only if the applicant concerned was, through no fault of his/her own, incapable of asserting the situations set forth in paragraphs ~~2~~ and ~~3~~ ~~3~~, ~~4~~ and ~~5~~ of this Article in the previous procedure, in particular by exercising his/her right to an effective remedy pursuant to Article ~~46~~ ~~39~~.

3. Once the competent authority has taken the decision to withdraw the ⇒ international protection ⇐ refugee status, Article ~~20 15, paragraph 2~~, ⇒ Article 22 ⇐, Article ~~23(1) 16, paragraph 1~~ and Article ~~29 21~~ are equally applicable.¹⁹⁷

¹⁹⁷ In response to DE, Cion indicated that Article 21 applies via Article 20.

¹⁹⁸ DE proposed to maintain the wording of the Directive currently in force, in particular the phrase "in case of cessation in accordance with Article 11(1)(a) to (d) of Directive 2004/83/EC".

2.²⁰¹ Member States shall ensure that persons recognised by the determining authority as eligible for subsidiary protection have the right to an effective remedy as referred to in paragraph 1 against a decision to consider an application unfounded in relation to refugee status.

👉 Without prejudice to paragraph 1(c) of this Article, where the subsidiary protection status granted by a Member State offers the same rights and benefits as those offered by the refugee status under Union and national law, that Member State may consider an appeal against the decision referred to in subparagraph 1 of this paragraph inadmissible on the basis of insufficient interest on the part of the applicant in maintaining the proceedings. 🗑️

3.²⁰³ Member States shall ensure that the effective remedy referred to in paragraph 1 provides for a full examination of both facts and points of law, including an ex nunc examination of the international protection needs pursuant to Directive [.../.../EU] [the Qualification Directive], at least in appeal procedures before a court or tribunal of first instance.

²⁰¹ Scrutiny reservation: RO

²⁰² Scrutiny reservation: SK on deletion sub-paragraph stating that persons eligible for subsidiary protection remain entitled to the rights and benefits of that status pending the outcome of an appeal procedure.

²⁰³ Reservation: CY, PL (in connection with paragraph 1)
Scrutiny reservation: AT, ES, IT requesting clarification on the ex nunc examination.
NL expressed its preference for an ex nunc examination only and not a full examination as proposed, in particular in the case of clear abuse by the applicant.
Cion indicated that the proposal was drawn up in the light of existing case-law. Cion further pointed out that ex nunc examination was important as it enabled the court or tribunal to look at the situation in the country of origin at the time of the ruling.

The time limits shall not render impossible or excessively difficult the access of applicants to an effective remedy pursuant to paragraph 1.

Member States may also provide for an ex officio review of decisions taken pursuant to Article 43.

~~3. Member States shall, where appropriate, provide for rules in accordance with their international obligations dealing with:~~

~~(a) the question of whether the remedy pursuant to paragraph 1 shall have the effect of allowing applicants to remain in the Member State concerned pending its outcome;~~

~~(b) the possibility of legal remedy or protective measures where the remedy pursuant to paragraph 1 does not have the effect of allowing applicants to remain in the Member State concerned pending its outcome. Member States may also provide for an ex officio remedy; and~~

5.²⁰⁵ Without prejudice to paragraph 6, Member States shall allow applicants to remain in the territory until the time limit within which to exercise their right to an effective remedy has expired or, when this right has been exercised within the time limit, pending the outcome of the remedy.

6.²⁰⁶ In the case of a decision

☞ (a) ☞ to consider an application unfounded where any of the circumstances listed in Article 31(6) ☞ [...] ☞ apply or ☞ manifestly unfounded in accordance with Article 32(2)²⁰⁷; ☞

☞ (b) ☞ _____ ☞ [...] ☞ to consider an application inadmissible pursuant to Article 33(2)(a) or (d) ☞ ; ☞

²⁰⁵ Scrutiny reservation: SK supporting the NL proposal on paragraph 5.

Cion explained the provisions concerning the right to remain, in particular in relation to subsequent applications.

²⁰⁶ Scrutiny reservation: AT, DE, ES (in particular as regards "on its own motion"), HU SE considered that not only a court or tribunal but also administrative authorities should be able to decide whether an applicant may remain on the territory.

AT, supported by ES, SI, wanted to add subsequent applications as an exception to automatic suspensive effect of the right to remain in the territory of a Member State.

DE, supported by ES, SI and preliminary by EE, wanted to add border procedures as an exception (see DE proposals in document 14909/11). DE also wanted to add withdrawals of the protection status according to Article 45 (see DE proposals in document 14909/11).

SE wanted to add as an exception case where a person has been expelled in a criminal procedure.

FR suggested including additional exceptions to the list in the Commission proposal.

CZ, FI could accept the Commission proposal given the ECHR case law and the Presidency proposal.

Cion stated, under reference to document 15040/11, that the grounds included in its proposal reflected the maximum possible in the light of the case-law.

²⁰⁷ Cion expressed concerns about adding manifestly unfounded cases in the light of the requests of delegations to add grounds for applying accelerated procedures.

☞ (c)²⁰⁸ to reject reopening of the applicant's case that has been discontinued according to Article²⁰⁹ 28; ☞

☞ (d)²¹⁰ not to examine or not to examine fully the application pursuant to Article 39; ☞ and where, in such cases, the right to remain in the Member State pending the outcome of the remedy is not foreseen under national legislation, a court or tribunal shall have the power to rule whether or not the applicant may remain on the territory of the Member State, either upon request of the concerned applicant or acting on its own motion.

This paragraph shall not apply to procedures referred to in Article 43.²¹¹

7.²¹² Member States shall allow the applicant to remain in the territory pending the outcome of the procedure to rule whether or not the applicant may remain on the territory, laid down in paragraph 6.

²⁰⁸ Cion opposed adding this situation arguing that in case of implicit withdrawal of an application the substance of the application may be left unexamined. For that reason, suspensive effect is needed to provide a safety net for these cases.

²⁰⁹ DE proposed to add "Article 27 and".

²¹⁰ Cion opposed adding this situation arguing that in case of applying the provision on safe third countries the substance of the application may be left unexamined.

²¹¹ DE proposed to delete this phrase.

Scrutiny reservation: CZ, EE, IT

²¹² Reservation: DE

Scrutiny reservation: AT, ES, FI, SI, SK

ES requested clarification what would happen in case of an unfounded application.

²¹³ Reservation: DE, SI proposing to delete this paragraph.

9.4. Member States may lay down time-limits for the court or tribunal pursuant to paragraph 1 to examine the decision of the determining authority.

~~5. Where an applicant has been granted a status which offers the same rights and benefits under national and Community law as the refugee status by virtue of Directive 2004/83/EC, the applicant may be considered as having an effective remedy where a court or tribunal decides that the remedy pursuant to paragraph 1 is inadmissible or unlikely to succeed on the basis of insufficient interest on the part of the applicant in maintaining the proceedings.~~

10.6. Member States may also lay down in national legislation the conditions under which it can be assumed that an applicant has implicitly withdrawn or abandoned his/her remedy pursuant to paragraph 1, together with the rules on the procedure to be followed.
