Syria Foreign Fighters

Strategic Engagement Plan

Threat

A significant proportion of those currently fighting in Syria come from outside the country. The number is currently estimated to exceed 10,000 from a range of nationalities: the vast majority (some estimate around 70%) come from Maghreb and Levant, with significant numbers from the Gulf, Russia and the Caucus. Many European Foreign Fighters are with groups that subscribe to extremist ideologies, such as Jabhat al-Nusra (JaN), which has publicly associated itself with Al Qaeda; or Islamic State of Iraq and al-Sham (ISIS); or Ahrar a-Sham. On their return to their home countries, some of these Fighters – whether acting on their own initiative, or tasked by AQ and like-minded groups – may pose a significant and growing threat to Europe, as well as to regional stability.

Background

On 21 November PSC-COSI broadly endorsed the non-paper, Terrorist Threat Emanating from Syria: External Action (Council Doc. 16191/13). The non-paper was developed by the EEAS-chaired Syria FF (external) working group, and aims to complement the CTC’s paper (Council Doc. 15955/13).

This Strategic Engagement Plan, developed in conjunction with CTC and Commission services, is intended to help put into effect the proposals relating to third country engagement. The strategic priority is to contain the threat – staunch the flow of new recruits; and that the threat does not bleed further beyond the Syria/Iraqi borders. The secondary goal is to lay the groundwork to defeat the terrorist threat within Syria. This Plan aims to:

- ensure that we engage systematically and comprehensively with significant source countries and those along key transit routes, including to enable project-based delivery;
- ensure that we engage systematically and comprehensively with those priority countries who can help us achieve our objectives ('multipliers').

It does not aim to be exhaustive – Syria Foreign Fighters will continue to be raised in all appropriate third country contacts. Rather, this Engagement Plan should be seen as covering priority, additional work. It is part of our wider efforts to counter the terrorist threat emanating from Syria, set in the broad context of EU-Syria relations. The Plan will need to be refreshed regularly.
Implementation

For this plan to be implemented effectively, we will need:

- Close co-ordination with wider related work, such as EU CT political dialogues, multilateral cooperation at UN/GCTF/G8, and wider Syria-related work. Identifying additional opportunities for engagement, as well as cross-cutting issues, will be essential.

- Active MS support: these proposals should be seen as complementary to actions by EU MS, not in place of them. COTER should act as a clearing house for co-ordinating activities or sharing information (e.g. reports of EEAS-Commission-CTC visits, updates on MS contacts), elevating to PSC-COSI as appropriate.

- Regular reporting and analysis of the situation on the ground. IntCen assessment, and regular MS input, will be essential.

- EU HoMs reporting on the issue, to refine and target our messaging.

- Informal brainstorming with CT/security actors, in particular with those currently active in Syria, to inform our picture and identify possible options.

- Implementation to be overseen by the Syria FF working group, chaired by EEAS and including CTC and Commission, updating COTER as appropriate.
